We provide academic, social-emotional, health and wellness support.

Feeding kids and families

through a strong network of community partners.

Supporting physical and mental health with social workers, counseling and expanded access to school-based health centers.

Fostering professional development with a focus on trauma recovery, Culturally Responsive Sustained Education (CRSE) and social-emotional learning (SEL).

We organize our support and services around six pillars.

- ✓ Health & Wellness
- ✓ Educator Support
- ✓ Academic Enrichment
- ✓ Extended Learning Time
- ✓ Parent & Family Engagement
- ✓ Community Engagement

We have intensified our work helping kids and families.

- ✓ Academic programs to recover lost ground
- ✓ Attendance monitoring and check-ins
- ✓ Counseling sessions aimed at reducing trauma
- ✓ Supporting parents and caregivers

Our students are supported.

“The tutor became part of [my students’] daily teaching lives. She worked effectively with a lower-level student one-on-one and a small group teaching kids sight words and how to read fluently. One of her students went from a level H to J in just a matter of weeks...”

–Teacher comment about our TutorHUB program

Our teachers are supported.

“I now know it’s okay to meet my students where they are in order to move them forward. My students feel more empowered...I find that I can give them more attention.”

–Teacher comment about the positive impact of our professional learning sessions

Our parents are supported.

“When I wasn’t working, and the school was having food and gift cards to buy groceries, Ms. A’ssee called me to let me know and made sure that I got some each time. This was a big, big help to me and my family. I got some nice clothes and coats for my children...because the school was giving away new coats and clothes. Ms. A’ssee said take all you need. I thank God for Ms. A’ssee and the school.”

–Parent comment about her Community School Director

OVER 60% OF PARENTS ARE SEEING POSITIVE CHANGES IN THEIR KIDS.

- ★ Behaving better in school
- ⊕ Receiving needed healthcare
- Consuming more healthy foods and drinks

We met critical needs last year.

- ✓ Fed and supported more families than ever
- ✓ Expanded mental health teams to provide much needed services to children
- ✓ Connected more children to physical, mental and behavioral health resources
- ✓ Provided CRSE professional development to teachers
- ✓ Secured technology devices and internet access for families in need

Now we’re meeting today’s needs.

- ✓ Intensifying academic programming to help students get back on track
- ✓ Making tutors available to more schools and students across the city
- ✓ Expanding access to existing school-based health centers
- ✓ Connecting more children to mental health and behavioral health resources
- ✓ Providing SEL and CRSE professional development and parent workshops
